Road Recovery is an entertainment industry-based non-profit 501(c)(3) organization, established in February 1998, dedicated to helping young people battle addiction and other adversities by empowering at-risk youth from all backgrounds to face their struggles, while teaching them comprehensive life skills. Guided by entertainment industry professionals who have confronted similar life struggles, and with support from the mental health field, Road Recovery’s action-driven programs provide mentorship, performance workshops, and “all access” opportunities for a community of motivated peers to create and produce live concert events and studio recording projects. Donations are tax-deductible to the extent allowed by law.

Some of the highlights of the Road Recovery Foundation in 2018 were:
► RecoveryTrax Program continues in its 16th year with the Road Recovery program model presented at twice-weekly sessions including peer support meetings, self-governing business meetings, and creative workshops at hosted at The Recovery Spot & Threshold Recording Studios. Road Recovery receives support from working musicians and mentors in the entertainment industry who want to give back to young people battling addiction and/or other adversities in our program.
► RecoveryTrax Program and Sobrietea Party present Readings on Recovery in Manhattan, part of a curated series where individuals are given the platform to share what recovery means to them by expressing themselves through personal essays, stand-up comedy, poetry, live music, and/or dance.
► Mini RoadTrax Program of peer support and creative workshops at Jewish Board’s Hawthorne NY campus for adolescents who need personalized support to address traumas they’ve experienced.
► Launch of new weekly RoadTrax Program of peer support, creative workshops and seasonal live performance finales at BronxConnect for justice-involved youth in Alternatives to Incarceration at the agency’s South Bronx building, with grant funding provided by The Pinkerton Foundation.
► Road Recovery partnered with Friends of Recovery-NY and NYS Office of Addiction Services & Supports (OASAS) to lead from behind and form a statewide recovery movement known as Youth Voices Matter-NY. This state-funded initiative brings together youth and young adults under 30 years old from New York State who have been touched by substance misuse or other adversities. Road Recovery helped establish the brand, curated marketing initiatives and mentored social media.
► Presented Rock-N-Reach involving 4 Youth Clubhouses on a mini-tour, with each engagement including two hours of interactive creative performances and sharing personal stories of hope and recovery. Rock-N-Reach engaged youth in Catskill/Hudson, Amsterdam and Otsego, NY.
► Road Recovery partners with The Recovery Spot NY to launch seasonal BasicTrax Programs for at-risk youth including peer support meetings, self-governing business meetings, and creative workshops under the direction of entertainment industry professionals to foster creative projects.
► Presented 11 Rock-N-Ride outreach events across New York State in Youth Clubhouses supported by NYS Office of Addiction Services & Supports (OASAS). These community outreach events involved RecoveryTrax Program youth to reach several at-risk youth at Youth Clubhouses in NYS.
► RecoveryTrax Program recording project at Threshold Recording Studios completed and releases music at iTunes, Spotify and other DMS’s. Young artists wrote and recorded an EP of original music entitled ‘Talk It Out’ per creative collaborations with Fred Schneider (The B-52s) and Don Miggs.
